MANY WHITE HOUSE ERRANDS

Some Smooth Politicians Have a Scheme to Impress the Country. Appropriation of $250,000 on Sundry Civil Bill Will Go Through, Unless Point of Order Interferes.

There was much Congressional running to and fro yesterday over the $250,000 item for a tariff board in the sundry civil appropriation bill. Certain smooth politicians want to impress the country with the idea that the rank old standpatters have been hit square between the eyes and that Congress is about to hump itself toward another revision. WAR WITH JAPAN.

My neighbor is a lucky man; he says we'll mix things with Japan, before a dozen years are gone, and so, at dusk, at noon, at dawn, he talks about that coming scrap, for which I do not care a rap. Oh, I have woe enough, alas! The chickens spoil my garden sass, and cows and hogs, which have no sense, are always breaking through the fence; they ruin property of mine, and eat the washing off the line. And agents come and make me sore; they'd talk the handle off the door. The bill collectors are abroad, and daily touch me for my wad. A thousand worries, day by day, combine to make your uncle gray, and when the day draws to a close, and I am bughouse with my woes, I cry: "It seems a splendid plan, to fret o'er trouble with Japan. The man who buckles down to that won't break his heart and lose his fat. He concentrates his blooming grief; he gets his troubles in a sheaf, and does his weeping in a bunch; I'll try and profit by the hunch. This thing of scattering my tears, of spreading out my griefs and fears, is certainly a measly plan; I'm strong for trouble with WALT MASON.
